REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

1. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: The prior art does not teach or disclose a process for preheating a metal-containing substrate containing a metal platinum, iridium, ruthenium or mixture thereof with a first plasma having reactive gases and subsequently etching the metal-containing substrate with a second plasma gas source, which is different and more reactive than that of the first plasma gas source as the context of claim 1.
2. The closest prior art Ye et al (6,547,978) disclose a process for preheating a copper- containing substrate with a non-reactive gas such as argon and subsequently etching the heated substrate with a second plasma having different gas source than that of the preheating plasma but fail to teach that the use of reactive gases to create the pre-heating plasma as claimed.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
